

Kia ora koutou katoa, kua takato te mānuku, ko wai ka toa, ko wai ka taka mō te whakataetae o te ao, Wīwī, ko Te Kapa o Pako rānei?. Auē taukiri e kāore e kore, ka whakapau werawera ngā tima hei te mutunga o tēnei wiki. Ka wepua atu ngā tima katoa.

Wow it has come to the business end of the rugby world cup 2011, Grand final time, who will win who will fall, will it be France or the All Blacks. Without a doubt these teams will be going hard and giving maximum effort for the final for their chance to win the Rugby World Cup. Let it rip, let the games begin!!!

We thought we would try something different this week and learn a bit of French “ Wiwi “we are fortunate to have Pauline Leblanc working with us at Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu on a 4 month internship working on projects related to land development. Pauline is a native French speaker and an avid French supporter.

You can check out the pronunciation by visiting our KMK Facebook page and support France this weekend. Ngā mihi nui ki a koe Paulina mō tou mahi ki te tautoko tēnei whakataetae whakahirahira.

Phases in French :

1. Alley les bleus = Go the blues
La France = Go France
2. Alley les gars !! = Come on guys
3. Thierry Dusautoir, est un grand capitaine, un tre’s bon joueur
Thierry Dusautoir is a great leader and a very good player

4. La France va gagner la coupe du monde de rugby = France is going to win the Rugby world cup
